High Net Worth Business Owners - Northeast Ohio

Prepared for: Bryan McInerney | Intelligent Annuity Solutions, LLC

Securities offered through: LPL Financial, Member FINRA/SIPC

Status: Ready for LPL compliance submission

Target Audience: High net worth business owners in Northeast Ohio who are sensitive to taxes and fees, likely already have a wealth manager.

Template 1: Cold Intro Email

Subject: [First Name], a question about your advisory fees

Hi [First Name],

Most business owners I work with in [City] are paying their wealth manager 1-2% annually - and when I ask what they're getting beyond a quarterly statement, the room goes quiet.

After 20 years on the insurance company side, I started Intelligent Annuity Solutions to help business owners like you pursue strategies that may reduce fees, manage tax exposure, and seek stronger long-term growth - without the layers of cost that often go unquestioned.

If your current advisor hasn't walked you through exactly what you're paying and why, that conversation might be worth 15 minutes.

Would a brief call make sense?

Template 2: Value Add Email (Educational)

Subject: The fee most business owners in [City] never see

Hi [First Name],

One pattern I see consistently with successful business owners: the wealth management relationship they set up years ago hasn't been re-evaluated for cost or fit. Advisory fees, fund expense ratios, and platform charges compound quietly - and at high income levels, that leakage adds up to meaningful money over time.

I wrote a whitepaper - "Complicated, Expensive, and Often Misrepresented: Why Annuities Are Misunderstood" - that breaks down how certain insurance-based strategies may help manage taxes and reduce ongoing fees compared to traditional portfolio approaches.

If you're paying more than 1% in total advisory costs and haven't explored alternatives, this is a useful starting point.

Template 3: Social Proof Email

Subject: Other business owners in NE Ohio are asking this question

Hi [First Name],

Several business owners in Northeast Ohio have recently gone through a complimentary review of their wealth management costs - specifically looking at total advisory fees, tax efficiency, and whether their current strategy is actually structured around their situation or a one-size-fits-all model.

The common reaction: "I had no idea I was paying that much," or "No one ever showed me an alternative."

These are business owners with similar revenue, similar concerns about taxes, and the same question you might have: Am I getting real value for what I'm paying my advisor?

If you are curious whether the same gaps exist in your accounts, I am happy to provide a complimentary review at no cost and with no obligation.

Worth exploring?

Template 4: Direct Ask Email

Subject: 15 minutes, [First Name]?

Hi [First Name],

Quick question - would a 15-minute conversation about your advisory fees and tax strategy be worth your time?

No cost, no obligation. Just a second opinion on whether your current setup is working as hard as it should be for someone at your level.

Worth a brief call?

Template 5: Breakup Email

Subject: Closing the loop

Hi [First Name],

I know running a business in [City] doesn't leave much room for unsolicited emails - so I won't keep reaching out.

But if your wealth management fees haven't been independently reviewed in the last couple of years, the offer stands. At higher income levels, hidden costs and missed tax strategies tend to compound quietly.

If the timing is ever better, just reply to this email and we can pick it up from there.

Wishing you and your business continued success.

Template 6: LinkedIn Connection Request

(Under 300 characters)

Hi [First Name] - I work with business owners in NE Ohio on tax-conscious strategies and fee reduction. After 20 years on the insurance side, I now advocate for the client. Would enjoy connecting.

Template 7: LinkedIn Follow-Up Message

(Sent after connection is accepted)

Hi [First Name] - thanks for connecting. I help business owners take a harder look at what they're paying in advisory fees and whether insurance-based strategies might work better for their tax situation. If you're ever curious whether your current setup could be more efficient, I'm happy to chat - no pitch, just a conversation. Either way, glad to be connected.

Template 8: Warm Handoff Email

NOTE: This is the ONLY template that names Bryan. Sent only after a prospect expresses interest.

Subject: Connecting you with Bryan McInerney - your complimentary review

Hi [First Name],

Thank you for your interest - I'm glad the timing works.

I'd like to introduce you to Bryan McInerney, a financial advisor based in Hudson, Ohio. Bryan specializes in working with high net worth business owners on retirement income planning, with a focus on tax-efficient strategies, fee analysis, and risk management using insurance-based solutions.

Bryan is a registered representative offering securities through LPL Financial, Member FINRA/SIPC.

He'll be reaching out to schedule a brief, no-obligation conversation to review your current wealth management costs and discuss whether any adjustments could be beneficial for your situation. There is no cost for this initial review.

A few things to note:

- This is a review and educational conversation - not a commitment to any product or service.
- Any recommendations Bryan may offer would be based on your individual financial situation, goals, and risk tolerance.
- No strategy can guarantee a specific outcome. All investing involves risk, including possible loss of principal.
